WORKSHOP
2024

Powerful NETWORKING

for Scientists & Engineers

FULL-DAY IN-PERSON WORKSHOP FOR TUW DOC SCHOOL STUDENTS

November 29, 2024

10:30 am - 5:00 pm CET

About

DURING THIS WORKSHOP TU Wien DOC School Students WILL ...

- ✓ IDENTIFY THEIR PERSONAL MOTIVATIONS: To get crystal clear about their very own networking goals.
- ✓ LEARN ABOUT THE NEW “PEOPLE-FIRST” WAY OF NETWORKING: So connecting with others is less awkward, never fake, and meant to last.
- ✓ BECOME CLEAR ABOUT RELEVANT PLAYERS IN THEIR NETWORK: By analyzing who is vs. who should be in their network, and whom to focus future efforts on.
- ✓ PINPOINT OPPORTUNITIES FOR PROACTIVE OUTREACH: So they can strategically expand their network and not leave their circle of support up to chance.
- ✓ BUILD A PLAN TO DIVERSIFY THEIR CONNECTIONS: To enjoy a differentiated set of backgrounds, opinions, skills, experiences, and reach.
- ✓ PLAN FOR THE LONG RUN: By understanding how to build and nurture strong and meaningful relationships that last.
- ✓ DEVELOP THEIR OWN PERSONAL NETWORKING STRATEGY: Based on tried and practiced insights and directed by hands-on exercises in their workbook.

About Your Trainer

Simone is a former science diplomat based in Washington, DC. She has been supporting scientists and engineers in Europe and North America for two decades.

Today, she is a success partner for scientists and engineers. Simone champions the power of human connection and self-accountability. She empowers scientists and engineers to go from “merely surviving” to “thriving” in their busy careers and personal lives; by ditching the “overwhelm”.

Simone is a certified Project Management Professional and received a master’s degree in Communications from the University of Vienna, Austria.
